

Marge Schade – Marge has been interested in supporting endeavors in Safford ever since she moved here from Clifton. She has been an active member of the Gila Valley Arts Council since its beginning and a charter and active member of the Mount Graham Regional Medical Center Auxiliary.

Her support of the Women's Club activities and maintaining the historical building resulted in being named the Volunteer of the Year by the Women's Club and the same year she won the Pepsi-Cola Community Leadership Award. She supported the library for a long time and was very instrumental on the building project and fund raising.

Marge is active in her church activities at the First United Methodist Church as well as giving service to the Historical Society. She served six years on the Safford City Council working on the Library, Utility, Golf Course and Economic Development committees.

She has done her community service work in addition to many years of working full time in a demanding job. As she continues in her community involvement, she well exemplifies the Pride of Safford Award.